

BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT & GRANT WRITING FOR AGRICULTURALISTS

NEWARK SCIENCE & SUSTAINABILITY

This two-day, virtual workshop series was hosted by Jacqueleen M. Bido, Ed.D., CEO of Bidoism LLC, and the CSO of Newark Science & Sustainability.
Her mission is to empower people, their organizations, and the communities they serve to invoke social change. Participants learned tips and tricks about business development and how to get grants for their agricultural communities.

Eventbrite Tickets/Participants

Total Attendance: 18

9 Repeat Attendees

5 Only Session 1

4 Only Session 2

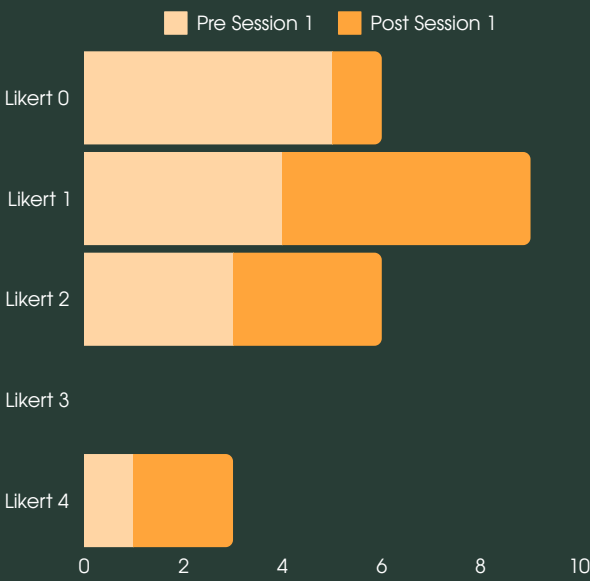

59

PARTICIPANTS SIGNED UP
ON EVENTBRITE FOR BOTH
WORKSHOP SESSIONS

“What is your learning scale level of grants and grant writing?”

KNOWLEDGE PRE & POST SESSION 1

KNOWLEDGE PRE & POST SESSION 2

4: I am a grant writer who has won more than one grant and can support others in doing the same.
3: know the fundamental of grant writing, have written a grant, and can teach them to others.
2: I know the fundamentals of grant writing and can write a grant.
1: I know some of the fundamentals of grant writing but have not written a grant.
0: I have never written a grant and do not know the fundamentals of grant writing.

Participant Locations

New Jersey: 18
(11 from Greater Newark)

New York: 11
(NYC, Brooklyn
& Staten Island)

While most participants shared that they were from NJ and NY, some tuned in from Alexandria VA, Pheonix AZ, and Brisbane AU!